

WE ARE HIRING!

ROLE - USER EXPERIENCE ENGINEER

WealthOS is a cloud-native, core wealth management SaaS platform that is revolutionizing the wealth management industry for clients in the UK, US, and Europe. We're building next-generation, enterprise-grade solutions, and we are looking for a highly collaborative and skilled User Experience Engineer who can create a delightful user experience and optimise our cross-platform solutions.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Create user-centric experiences that captivate and engage our users.
- Work closely with our Product and Development teams throughout the entire project lifecycle, from initial concept to final implementation.
- Perform stakeholder interviews and conduct research to develop user flow diagrams, journey maps, conceptual wireframes, prototypes, and high-fidelity designs to effectively communicate your design vision.
- Play a key role in enhancing and maintaining the product design system, ensuring a consistent and cohesive user experience across our entire product suite.
- Engage in design reviews and serve as a role model for best practices in delivering and receiving constructive feedback.
- Stay abreast of current industry trends and market conditions to inform your design decisions and keep our products at the forefront of the industry.
- Demonstrate a strong commitment to continuous learning and self-improvement.

YOU MIGHT BE THE 'ONE' IF:

- You possess a minimum of three years of professional experience in the capacity of a User Experience Engineer.
- You can showcase a comprehensive portfolio that substantiates your prior work and expertise.
- You demonstrate a solid grasp of user-centered design principles, emphasizing accessibility and usability in your work.
- You have proven experience collaborating with scrum teams in an agile work environment.
- You exhibit an expert-level proficiency in Figma, which is an absolute requirement.
- Have strong written and verbal communication skills in English.
- You can show evidence of employing research and data to inform decision-making.
- You have been recognised for your meticulous attention to detail, ensuring pixel-perfect designs.
- You embody a team-oriented spirit, openness to change, and a proactive "can-do" attitude.
- Familiarity with HTML/CSS would be considered a valuable asset.

Ready to join the WealthOS team? Apply now by completing this short assessment.

For the right fit, we're looking to offer a GBP, above-market rate compensation package. We follow flexible hours, and have a hybrid working culture. We are an equal opportunity employer and value diversity at our company.