

WE ARE HIRING!

ROLE - PRODUCT OWNER

At WealthOS Lanka , we are building Sri Lanka's only B2B fintech SaaS platform catering to a global clientele. As a Product Owner in our dynamic tech startup, you can expect an environment free from corporate hierarchies. We're on the lookout for a creative problem solver and quick learner to join our close-knit, experienced team. We'll ensure a smooth onboarding process, getting you up to speed in no time as we collectively drive innovation in the world of wealth management

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Feature backlog ownership - Take full ownership of the backlog for a given feature area, ensuring it is well-defined, prioritised, and aligned with the overall product vision and business/commercial objectives.
- Feature research - Develop and maintain a structured framework for gathering the necessary information to design features in line with the product vision, user needs, and commercial viability. This will include market research, user feedback, and competitive analysis.
- Feature design - Conceptualise and ideate feature increments, starting from the first Minimum Viable Feature (MVF) and evolving through subsequent versions. Ensure each version is designed to deliver maximum value to the user and the business.
- Prepare pre-development artefacts - Prepare all necessary pre-development documentation, including high-level business context documents, detailed user stories, wireframes (in collaboration with expert UX designers), and any other material required to ensure smooth development and delivery of the feature.
- Internal subject matter expert - Act as the internal SME for the feature area, working closely with the development and QA teams throughout the sprint cycle. Participate in sprint planning, daily stand-ups, retrospectives, and sign off on the release readiness of features. You will demonstrate features to both internal and external users and serve as the primary point of contact for any related queries.
- Client liaison - Occasionally act as the main point of contact for client implementations, liaising between the client and the product team to ensure successful delivery and alignment with client expectations. This may involve handling specific feature requests and managing communication throughout the implementation process.

YOU MIGHT BE THE 'ONE' IF:

We seek someone with a minimum of 2+ years of industry experience who can quickly master complex topics to develop impactful product features. Key attributes include:

- Fast Learner: Ability to absorb and apply new information rapidly.
- Scrum Understanding: Experience with Scrum methodologies for efficient development.
- User-Centric Perspective: Focus on user-friendliness and alignment with customer needs.
- Commercial Acumen: Ability to assess features based on business value and development effort.
- Effective Communicator: Strong written and spoken English skills for clear communication with all stakeholders.
- Desirable Knowledge: Familiarity with wealth management, pensions, or investments is advantageous.

Ready to join the WealthOS team? Apply now through our vacancy form.

For the right fit, we're looking to offer a GBP, above-market rate compensation package. We follow flexible hours, and have a hybrid working culture. We are an equal opportunity employer and value diversity at our company.